Kitchener Reports the Enemy's Plans
Upset and Panic Rife.

Winnipeg, Feb. 11, '01.

London, Feb. 11, Monday.—DeWet and his force are crossing the Cape colony border, according to a report from General Kitchener, and no doubt, at this time have made the invasion a fact. From other sources it is gathered that DeWet has a force of about 2,000 strong.

Details have been received of severe fighting in the Tabaekburg mountains, five miles east of the railway, and midway between Small Den and Boshuis, between two British columns and Gen. DeWet's forces. Major Crewe with a composite column traveling southwest sighted the mountain on the morning of January 31st. He heard heavy firing and knowing that DeWet's column was on the other side of the mountains concluded that this was in action. Consequently he hurried forward only to meet the Boers advancing down and evidently receding from DeWet's lyddite shells. Immediately Major Crewe brought three five pounders and a pom-pom to bear on the Boers who, however, were found to be so numerous that it was impossible to head them off. Orders were given to return to camp about a few miles from the mountain. The column moved until 9 o'clock in the evening when the march was resumed southwest. Major Crewe was just touching the northern point of the mountains when a terrific fire was opened from a large force of Boers who were in ambush on the mountain. The fight soon became general. The Boers outnumbered the British five to one, and were attacking them on both flanks and in the rear. The British pom-pom jammed and became useless. Major Crewe grasped the situation and by a brilliant move got the convoy into a safe position. Between 7 and 8 in the evening the Boers charged the position and turned back the British flanks. The British ammunition then became exhausted. Major Crewe was obliged to give up and abandon the pom-pom after the advance party had endeavored to save it, and sustained severe losses. A rear guard action was fought by Major Crewe into the camp where the wagons had been loaded. He personally supervised the retirement, the Boers harassing him throughout. Enamoured with his thoroughness, the Boers started to join Gen. Knox, 12 miles southwest. The Boers immediately re-attacked him compelling him to fight a second rear guard action for four miles. DeWet personally commanded the Boers, estimated at 2,500 strong. Major Crewe's force was only 500. Eventually the British officer, Major General Knox and returned to Kitchener. Gen. Kitchener commended Major Crewe highly upon his achievement.

The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Kitchener: "Twelve, Feb. 9: The columns working eastward occupied Eremelo on Feb. 6th, with slight opposition. A large force of Boers estimated at 3,000, under Louis Botha, has retired eastward. About eight hundred wagons with families passed through to Eremelo on their way to Amsterdam. Very large quantities of stores are being driven east. The great delegates under sentence of death and other prisoners were taken away by the Boers. All reports show that the Boers are exceedingly bitter. Fifty Boers surrendered."

Louis Botha with two thousand men attacked Smith-Dorrien at Orangeburg, Boshuis, at 3 a. m. on Feb. 6. The Boers were repulsed after severe fighting.

General Spruit was killed and Gen. Botha severely wounded and two field cornets killed. Twenty dead Boers were left on his hands and many severely wounded. Our casualties were twenty-four killed and fifty-three wounded. Our movement to the east is reported to have thoroughly upset all the enemy's calculations and created a regular panic in the district. DeWet appears to be crossing the line south of Jagersfontein on the road to the west, having failed to affect a cutting by the drifts east of Bethulie. In Orange, Calvinia, has been occupied by Gen. De Laas, who entered Feb. 8th, the enemy retreating toward Kordkord, Col. Haig is driving the Midland commando northward past Aberdeen.

Major Crewe's column of 700 men attacked Gen. DeWet's 5,000 men and escaped a severe defeat. The Boers captured a pom-pom.

Gen. French has occupied Eremelo driving out six thousand Boers.

Louis Botha's force of Boers attacked

Gen. Smith-Dorrien's camp at Boshuis in the night. The enemy was repulsed with heavy loss. The British had 24 killed.

Western members of Haden-Powell's party will mobilize at Orange on March 8th.

It is believed that Kruger's days are numbered, his weakness continuing.

The Chicago Milwaukee St. Paul train on which the safe was taken from Sioux City arrived on Friday night. The Omaha train was late the messenger did not hurry unloading the goods and packages from the car. The safe and other articles were unloaded and placed on a truck on the platform. Then the messenger and baggage men went to the other end of the platform to get another truck.

When they returned they noticed the articles on the truck disarranged. A second glance showed that the iron box had been stolen. There was great excitement. A posse was formed which resulted in the arrest of the burglars. Twelve thousand dollars in cash and the rest in securities is missing. The safe was found in the woods, open.

The season promises to outlive any of its predecessors from an immigration point of view.

—John Kelly has returned from Sioux Plain where he has been engaged in superintending the erection of the new flour and grist mill erected on the reserve there. The mill which is a one-story stone building with steam power, takes the place of the old wind mill which has done duty for so many years in grinding the Indians' grain. The new structure is on the bank of the lake, near the agency buildings, a quarter of a mile from the old mill site. The mill has a capacity of 50 bushels a day in wheat, eight to ten thousand feet of lumber and twenty two to twenty-five thousand shingles. It is now complete and ready for business.

—J. H. Montgomery, merchant, was arrested by the chief of police on Saturday afternoon on a charge of setting fire to the premises occupied by him as a store, on Main street. The fire occurred on Friday night, during the progress of the carnival, and sent crowds of spectators gathering away. Engineer Targoon was the first man to arrive with a fire extinguisher, and after a short time located the fire in the cellar of the store. Descending he located the flames in a corner and the Victor extinguisher did good service in quenching the smoldering fire. The chemical engine of the brigade arrived shortly after when it was found that the fire was still smoldering in some of the cellar, thoroughly drenched with the chemical. No damage was done though the escape of the building from destruction was a narrow one as it is entirely of frame and has been standing for years. Mr. Montgomery appeared before Insp. Snyder at the town hall on Friday afternoon, to answer to the charge. He was represented by counsel, J. C. F. Bowen, and C. deW. MacDonald, crown prosecutor, appeared for the crown. No evidence was taken, the case being adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The accused was in the meantime arrested to the sum of $1,000, himself $1,000, and two sureties, John Ross and P. Heimlich, in $500 each.

Regie is said to be a whirlwind on steel. His advertised record for indoor racing is 1-2 mile, 1:38; mile, 2:51-5. In straight away racing he claims a record of 1-4 mile in 21-5; 1-2 mile in 12-5; mile, 2:08.

—A letter has been received in town from R. C. Edwards in which he states that he is about to re-embark in another journalistic venture at Watkinson. It is understood that the new paper will be known as the Watkinson "Bottling Works," because it will be a "cooker." Mr. Edwards asserts that most of the funny stuff is to be written by Radcliffe, the official humpman, and that it will be a readable sheet.—Calgary Herald.

—A second alarm of fire at four o'clock on Friday morning aroused the sleeping town to wakefulness. The conflagration was found to be at the water tank pumping station at the lower ferry landing, the building protecting the engine being on fire. A number of men arrived hurriedly on the scene, but the structure was found to be too far gone to be rescued, and efforts were successfully directed towards saving a pile of lumber nearby. The building was entirely destroyed, but the engine and other plant escaped without serious injury. The engine is to-day being moved further up the bank and a new engine house erected. In the meantime workmen are hauling their supplies from the river. The fire is thought to have originated through coals from the engine as the engine went down late in the evening and fired up to be ready in case work was needed for the Montgomery fire.

A MATTER OF LAW.

"Subscriber" asks the following questions involving points of law:

1. What is exempt from seizure for debts, whether a note or cash loan.

2. Can a homestead be sold or taken for debt.

3. Can a wife's property or stock be sold for a husband's debts.

Law, like elections and horse races, is a very uncertain quantity, and in answering the questions set out above, the Bulletin does so to the best of its knowledge and belief, and without assuming any responsibility for correctness.

1. This question is somewhat ambiguous. There is no legal difference between a debt for a note or cash loan or a cash loan, unless the note has been secured by mortgage or otherwise. The following real estate property of an execution debtor and his family is exempt from seizure by writ of execution:

The necessary and ordinary clothing of himself and his family.

Furniture, household furnishings, dairy utensils, swine and poultry, to the extent of $500.

The necessary food for the family of the execution debtor, during six months, which may include grain and flour or vegetables and meat and prepared or frozen food.

Three oxen, horses or mules, or any three of them, six cows, six sheep, three pigs and fifty chickens, provided the animals are the execution debtor may have chosen for food purposes, and food for the family for the month of November, December, January, February, March and April or for such of those months, or portions thereof, as may be determined by the court.

The harvest necessary for three animals, one wagon or two cars, one break-down or cart and scythe, one break-down or cart, one plow, one set of harrows, one horse rake, one sewing machine, one vapor or binder, one set of chains and one set of tools.

The tools and necessary implements, to the extent of two hundred dollars used by the execution debtor in the pursuit of his trade or profession.

Seed grain sufficient to sow all his land under cultivation, not exceeding eighty acres, at the rate of two bushels per acre, defendant to have choice of seed, and fourteen bushels of potatoes.

The homestead, provided the same be not more than one hundred and sixty acres, in case it is more, the surplus may be sold subject to any lien or incumbrance thereon.

The house and buildings occupied by the execution debtor and the land on which the same are situated, to the extent of $1,500.

Nothing in the ordinance exempts from seizure any article except for the food clothing and bedding of the execution debtor and his family, the price of which forms the basis of the judgment upon which the execution is issued.

(2) This question is answered by the third preceding paragraph.

(3) No, but it might be a matter of evidence whether the property is the wife's or not.

WARBLER IN CATTLE.

As warblers in cattle appear to be on the increase, the following extract from P. B. Gregson's lecture, recently delivered in Lacoube, should be invaluable to stockmen:

"Cattle farmers are very well acquainted with this fact, but it is a trouble that is too apt to be treated as of not a very serious nature and as not preventable. This, however, is a great mistake. In the first place, the blood that grubbed hides sell for one-third less than sound ones. But the best itself is rendered so inferior that buyers or the highest class of men, who supply hotels, etc., will not on any account buy carcasses showing traces of warble attack. Such beef, therefore, has to be sold at a lessened price than that obtainable for good beef, the reduction sometimes amounting to $2 per carcass. In view of the large and increasing exports of beef (cold-stored) to England, it becomes important to see that the reputation of the Northwest is sustained by keeping stock free from this pest. In dairies, too, the loss sustained through the attacks of warblers is as serious. There is loss in quantity of flow of milk as well as deterioration in quality, resulting from the annoyance of the animals by flies when depositing their eggs and later by the grubbing. The shrinkage in the milk is estimated at 10 per cent. and the deterioration in quality at the same rate making a total of 20 per cent. By the time the warble is discovered in the spring the mischief is done. Certain localities are more particularly infested than others and a dry season seems more conducive to the warble fly than a wet season, and where there is danger of the warble the animals should be protected during the summer months by spraying them occasionally with strong kerosene oil, such as fish oil, train oil, kerosene, emulsion, etc. To make kerosene or coal emulsion, add to one gallon of kerosene six soap suds made of half gallon of water (rain water preferred) and quarter pound of soap. Then churn all thoroughly together till it will adhere to the surface of the animal without oiliness. When required for use, dilute the emulsion by adding from five to fifteen times its measure of warm water."

CARNIVAL.

Over three hundred and fifty people gathered to witness the carnival at the rink on Friday night, in aid of All Saints church. The weather was pleasant and the evening most enjoyable. The costumes surpassed even those on exhibition at the preceding carnival here, some of them being most elaborate and artistic, and all combining to lend a pretty and striking effect when circling rapidly around the inner rink. Many of the costumes had been procured from a distance, and no trouble had been spared in their preparation. Undoubtedly the two handsomest and most elaborate costumes were those which won the two first prizes, namely: Mrs. Harrison's Hungarian uniform and Mr. Wright's Japanese gentleman. A Zulu warrior, impersonated by Burns Campbell was excellent, and others deserving special mention were "Two Negro Dudes," (John McDougall and W. Inglis). There were also several good hyacents, an Irishman and a comical clown.

A pretty feature of the carnival was the May pole on the ice, the evolutions being performed by ten of the costumes, five ladies and five gentlemen.

The prize winning costumes were: Best gentleman, Mr. Wright, "Japanese"; Best lady, Mrs. Harrison, "Hungarian"; Most comical ladies costume, Miss Adams, "Little Girl in Blue"; Most comical gentlemen's costume, J. After the carnival proper a hockey match was played between teams chosen from among the ladies and gentlemen, the ladies playing with hockey sticks and the men with broom handles. After half an hour's exciting and amusing play, the ladies were declared the winners by a score of two to one. The teams were:

Ladies: Mrs. Harrison, goal; E. Kains, Miss Young, goal; B. Robertson, Miss E. Matheson, cover; O. Morris, Miss Reid, points; O. Jardine, Miss J. Lauder, forwards; B. Johnson, Miss C. Lauder, A. THE NORTHWEST MAJORITIES.

Dawson Yukon Sun.

The majorities of the Liberal members elected in the four Northwest Territories are as follows: Frank Oliver, 1,174; T. O. Davis, Saskatchewan, 761; Walter Scott, West Assiniboia, 232; Dr. Douglas, East Assiniboia, 259; total, 2,426, which is a pretty sweeping victory where the vote is as yet comparatively small. Frank Oliver nearly compelled his opponent to lose his deposit, the latter's total vote, 874, being only 113 over the required half. Oliver is better known as the pioneer editor of the Edmonton Bulletin. He is a fighter from away back and when the government goes wrong he straightens it up and puts it back on the right track. He is an independent liberal but there is no uncertainty as to which party he supports. Being an able and honest man and not a crank, he commands the respect of his party colleagues even when he is making it pretty warm for them.

Trooper G. Wallace, C. M. R.

An enactment for the putting down of cattle stealing, provides that any person who fraudulently takes away, or conceals, or purchases, or sells cattle which are found astray, or who fraudulently obligates or alters any mark or brand on such cattle, or who without reasonable cause refuses to deliver up such cattle to their lawful owner, is liable to three years' imprisonment. Another section makes the stealing of a dog or any beast or domestic animal an indictable offence, if the value of the property stolen is over $30, the penalty being a fine not exceeding $50 over and above the value of the property stolen, or two years' imprisonment, or both. If the value of the property does not exceed $20, the punishment will be a fine of $20 over and above the value of the property, or imprisonment with hard labor.
